Canadian Labor News Condensed

Organization Activities, Strikes for Better Work Conditions, and Vigorous Opposition to C. I. O.'s Subversive Policy Keep Dominion's Wealth Producing Busy.

A. F. of L. News Service.
The necessity of a trade union organization to protect the workers is strikingly shown by the following:

The value of the workers withholding the labor power as a method to improve their conditions of work is shown in the report by the Department of Labor in Ottawa that strikes and lockouts showed a large increase in June, 1937, compared with May, 1936, but were fewer than in May, 1937.

During June, the report said, there were 20 lockouts and 13 strikes involving 7,641 workers and causing a time loss of 60,037 man working days, compared with 15 disputes involving 1,603 workers and causing a time loss of 8,530 days in June of last year.

In May, 1937, there were 44 disputes, involving 10,252 workers, with a time loss of 56,030 days.

Dominion Woolen Company Employees Strike

During the strike seven transport trucks attempted to enter the mill premises but were blocked by the pickets. The pickets, who were armed with clubs, stones and other weapons, urged the men of the trucks to pass, but they were refused with a chorus of rebuffs.

EDITORIAL Construction of Battleships by U. S. Navy Yards

The decision of President Roosevelt to have two new battleships for the Navy built in Government Navy Yards will receive the approval not only of those who believe in Government ownership of the shipbuilding industry, but also of those who believe in Government ownership of the shipbuilding industry.

The saving of forty million dollars in the production of these two battleships gives added importance to the position of the American Federation of Labor for the elimination of the shipbuilding industry in the production of war munitions.

When President Roosevelt was informed that the Navy Yards would build the ships for practically twenty million dollars apiece less than the bids submitted by the private concerns he did not hesitate in awarding the contract to the Navy Yards.

The American Federation of Labor has time and again declared its opposition to the construction of battleships by the private concerns, and it is gratifying to see that the government has decided to build the ships in the Navy Yards.

Hawaii Unemployment Insurance Law Benefits 43,000 Employees

Only Three States Lack Unemployment Compensation Laws, and Therefore Have No Federal Social Security Bonds Over 18 Millions Are Protected by Benefits When State Acts

Washington, D. C.—The approval of the recently enacted Hawaii Unemployment Insurance Law, which the Social Security Board brought the total of approved laws to 47 out of 48 states, the District of Columbia, Alaska and Hawaii.

Recent estimates of the board indicate that approximately 1,676,000 persons are employed in jobs covered by the unemployment compensation laws of the District of Columbia and the 46 States. Figures are not available for Alaska or Hawaii but on the basis of the Federal census of April, 1930, it is estimated that there were approximately 63,000 workers in employment which are covered by the new Hawaii law and approximately 15,600 by that of Alaska. The figure for Alaska is probably about 15,000, the summer months when there is a large influx of migratory workers.

Pay Rolls Are Taxed
The Hawaii law goes into effect May 15. The principal industries in the Territory are fruit and vegetable canning, sugar, tourism, and construction, all of which are covered by the law. The law provides for a pooled fund from which employers of one or more persons contribute. Workers are not required to pay contributions.

In describing the provisions of the Hawaii law the Social Security board said: "Employers having one or more persons on their payroll for more than a day in each of six weeks during a year contribute to the fund of 1.5 per cent of wages payable during 1937 and 1.7 per cent thereafter. The law provides for unemployment compensation for workers who are laid off."
